OFFERS VACATION TO BLIND WOMEN

Accommodations Still Available for Eleven at Estate of Philanthropist.

Eleven more blind women may have a two weeks' vacation in the country with expenses paid, including railroad fare, by applying to Miss M. J. Johnson, of 6 East Thirty-sixth street, Manhattan, who may be found in the offices of the New York State Commission for the Blind just behind piles of long-handled whiskbrooms and reed baskets of all sizes and descriptions.

This vacation, however, has nothing to do with the commission. It is a private enterprise started by a wealthy man who has been interested in work for the blind for the last twenty years. As he wants to keep his identity a secret, all arrangements are made by Miss Johnson. Applicants register with her, and when a sufficiently large group is assembled she arranges for some sighted companions to go with them.

The home, "Rest Haven," is situated at Monroe, Orange County, N. Y., near Tuxedo. It has accommodations for twenty blind women and five sighted attendants. It was opened on June 15 last. It is an old estate which the philanthropist has turned into a recreation home especially suited for the blind.

Since its opening, many women from Brooklyn as well as Manhattan have enjoyed a two weeks' rest there. The women from Brooklyn have gone through the committee at 289 Schermerhorn street.

The place will be kept open for the remainder of the month and those who know of blind women are urged to communicate with Miss Johnson.

A letter from Miss Johnson describes the estate as follows:

"In the hope of reaching the blind women of New York and Brooklyn, for whom this is primarily intended, this letter is presented with appreciation for the opportunity of using your columns as a medium.

"At Monroe, Orange Count, N. Y., there has been established by a sincere friend of the blind a vacation home for blind women which has been very appropriately called 'Rest Haven.'

"Rest Haven—a beautiful mansion—is situated in a park of five acres, in a setting of fine old trees and adjoining it are six acres of fine woods, groves, etc. Its elevation of 650 feet above sea level insures a dry climate. Vegetable gardens, flower gardens and a series of grape arbors give abundant proof of the care which they receive.

"Rest Haven opened on June 15 with its initial group of guests, twenty blind women and five sighted attendants.

"There is, of course, no expense incident to the vacation offered at Rest Haven. Railroad fares from New York City to Monroe and return are defrayed by the friend who has established the house, and those of your readers who know of a blind woman who would welcome the opportunity of a visit to Rest Haven are urged to pass on the information and to tell their blind friend that she may communicate with Miss M. J. Johnson at 6 East Thirty-sixth street, New York City.

"It is hoped to keep Rest Haven open during September and arrangements will gladly be made for those who wish to visit Rest Haven during the month of September."

DENIES HE BELIEVED MOORE SLEW POLICEMEN

Capt. John Gallagher, in charge of the detectives of the north shore precincts in Queens denies he made public the story concerning "Jocko" Moore yesterday. The story stated that Capt. Gallagher charged Moore, who was shot and willed in Astoria Aug. 21, with having been the man who shot and Killed Patrolman C. J. Reynolds and Frank Romauella at Sixty-fourth street and Second avenue, Manhattan, a little over a month ago.

"When 'Jocko' Moore was killed, we began investigations to see if we could find that he was connected with any other crimes in Long Island City," Said Capt. Gallaghed. "At that time I did state that we were working on the theory that he might have been connected with the murders. The story, however, which states that I have positively declared that 'Jocko' is connected with the police shooting is all wrong."

Only about one person in every fifteen has perfect eyesight.

From the Founder's Writings

Happy is the Man who knows

he was born to work, and that by work well done he can keep on climbing as other men have done to more enjoyable and profitable work.

If he is jealous of other men above him, let him remember that it has been long given out as a fact that John Jacob Astor, the first Astor, peddled his goods from a basket; and that the writer saw Thomas A. Edison working at his beginnings in a barn of a place, said to have been used once as a stable.

No man need always stop at his beginnings if he has got anything more in him.

Take a move, at once upon yourself, please.

Dix-Make
Porch Frocks
$2.95

Not one of these good-looking frocks was made to sell for less than $3.95; the price tags on some have read "$5.95." But, they are mostly individual models and in order to make room for our new stocks we have marked them at this new low price for speedy selling.

Fashioned on simple, slender lines of checked and plaided ginghams, candy-striped, and checked batistes, and of dotted and figured voiles, they are neatly finished with narrow pipings and laces, or with attractively-shaped collars and cuffs of white organdie.

Note—In the collection there are many models for the larger woman. Third Floor, Old Building

Frocks to Delight the Schoolgirl

Special at $1.95

Made to our order of fine quality materials—checked and plaided ginghams, plain crash—this interesting collection of charming models presents splendid opportunities for mothers to select inexpensive frocks for the first schooldays.

Some frocks find charm in the severest simplicity with merely narrow pipings or braids as trimmings. Others are attractively embroidered or finished with quaint, appliqued motifs. And a new note in tub frocks, many of these models are made with matching knickerbockers. Sizes 6 to 14.

White Jean Middy Blouses, $1.25

Straight, regulation model, and the new middy blouse with the fitted hipband. Sizes 6 to 20.

Serge Bloomers, $2.95

Full pleated models. Navy blue or black cotton-and-wool mixed serge. Sizes 6 to 20.

Camco Corsets have an idea

We always like to promote anything that is good and desirable. That is why we speak so often of the Camco Corset.

It is a quality corset. It has a distinctive feature—an adjustment in the back that makes it instantly adaptable and uniformly comfortable.

It is essentially a reducing corset, but it differs from most reducing corsets in many interesting ways.

We like to sell Camco Corsets because we know their worth.
